Center for Research Libraries (Prime Sponsor: The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation)	Center for Research Libraries Print Archives and Preservation Registry	1/11-12/12	CRL is working with the California Digital Library to develop the database system and set of related tools and services which comprise the Registry. Together, these will ingest, manage and process information about individual library holdings of print journals, whether or not they contain ISSN identifiers, and the conditions under which those holdings are archived by libraries participating in CRL, WEST, and eventually other print archiving programs, and available in selected digital repositories. The purpose of the Registry is to inform planning and decision-making at research libraries on the preservation and disposition of print journal collections.

New York University (Prime Sponsor: The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation)	ArchivesSpace: Building a Next-Generation Archive	7/2012 - 6/2013	Supported by The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, this multi-year project aims to integrate Archon and the Archivists' Toolkit (AT) into a next-generation open-source archives management system. The project is a collaboration between the libraries of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (which developed Archon), and UC San Diego and New York University (which co-developed AT). The CDL's role in this project is to provide independent alpha-testing and "build and release" support, to facilitate the validation and deployment of the ArchivesSpace software. To do so, we will be leveraging our experience with hosting the AT and Archon for OAC contributors. ArchivesSpace will capitalize on the functional strengths of AT and Archon, both of which were released in 2006. The system will provide broad, integrated support for managing archival records and manuscript collections, including tracking collection workflow information; describing materials within collections, including digitized objects;	New York University, the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and the University of California, San Diego
The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation	WEST: The Western Regional Storage Trust	1/11-12/13	Research libraries, college and university libraries, and library consortia in the Western Region of the United States have developed plans for the Western Regional Storage Trust (WEST), a distributed, retrospective print journal repository program. Under the WEST program, participating libraries will consolidate and validate print journal backfiles at major library storage facilities and at selected campus locations. Planning partners have developed an operating and business model including 1) selection priorities and validation standards based on risk-management principles; 2) agreements governing retention, holdings disclosure, and access; and 3) a business plan that includes governance and cost-sharing proposals.	Through this grant, CDL serves as Administrative Host for WEST, supporting more than 100 research libraries, college libraries, and university libraries, and 3 library consortia, in the western part of the United States.
University of New Mexico (Prime Sponsor: NSF)	DataNetOne: Observation Network for Earth	8/09-9/13	By creating an infrastructure of technology and standards, people and institutions to support the full life cycle of biological, ecological, and environmental data and tools that enable universal access, DataONE will transform our understanding of ecological processes and conserve life on earth and the environment that sustains it.	Note: CDL is a Co-I. UNM (PI), NECEAS(UCSB), ORNL, Univ TN, Cornell, UC Davis, Univ of IL, Univ of KS
University of Virginia (Prime Sponsor: The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation)	The Social Networks and Archival Context Project (SNAC)	4/12-3/14	The California Digital Library (CDL) at the University of California will contribute programming support, web production work, and user experience research and design and usability testing to the proposed Social Networks and Archival Context Project (SNAC). The CDL's primary role in the project is to enhance the SNAC prototype access system (http://socialarchive.iath.virginia.edu/xtf/search) for searching and browsing the set of EAC-CPF name authority records created by our partners at the University of Virginia, Institute for Advanced Technology in the Humanities (UVA) and UC Berkeley School of Information (UCB). The prototype will demonstrate the ability of archival authority records to enable users to access archival collections by creator, gain biographical and historical context about the creators, learn about their social networks, and identify additional primary and secondary resources about them. We will hence conduct work in the following key areas: 1) development programming and web production work to build out the prototype (record ingest, record search and browse functionality, display and visualization of records; code distribution; assist with troubleshooting and quality assurance checking of records); and 2) user experience/design work and usability testing of the prototype.	Institute for Advanced Technology in the Humanities, University of Virginia; School of Information, University of California, Berkeley
