

UC Digital Image Collections: Luna Insight® Software Quick Guide

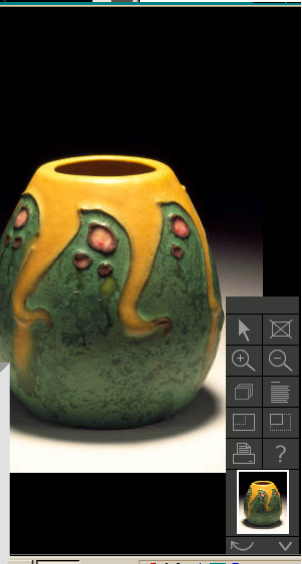

Insight allows users to search, view, and use high-quality digital images:

- Develop sophisticated searches
- View the digital images fully or in detail
- Create presentations
- Use images in web pages

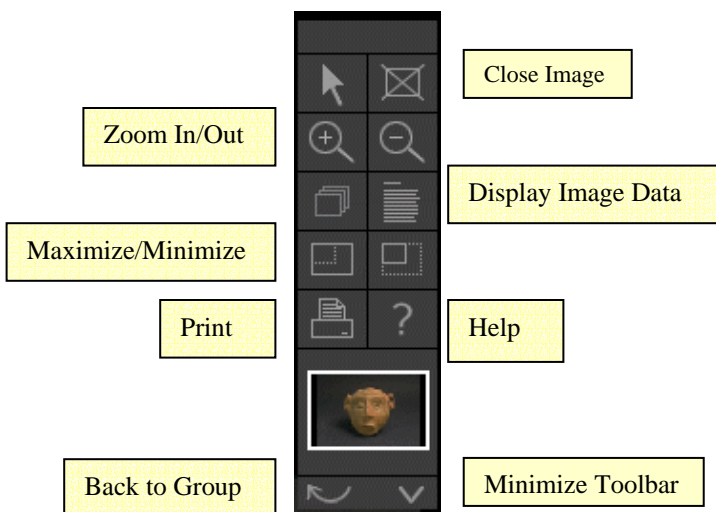

Search & View: Group Workspace (for searching) and Image Workspace (for viewing)

In the Group Workspace, select “Search” and “by keywords” to do a basic search. For more complex searches choose “data fields” and combine with and/or. Selecting any other search category will allow you to choose terms from a list.

Double-click an image to open it in the Image Workspace. The toolbar allows you to zoom in and out, maximize or minimize, read about the image, and print the image.

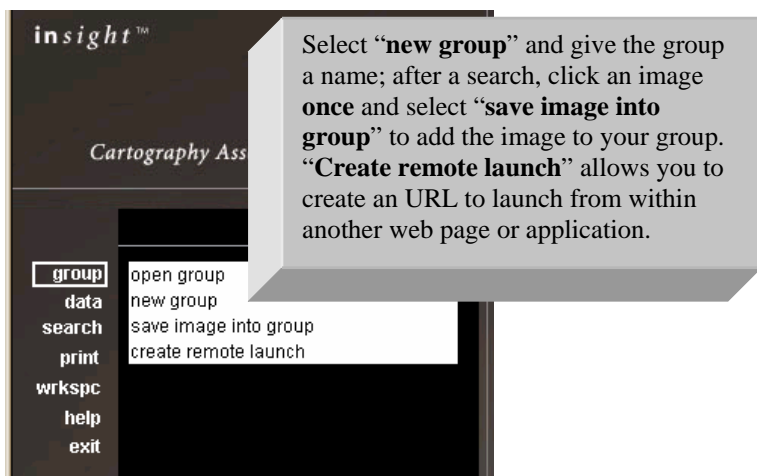

Insight is available in two versions: the web browser version and the Java (JVA) client version. The JVA client software offers additional functions, including:

- Cross collection searching
- More options for manipulating images
- Tools for creating presentations and exporting them to HTML or PowerPoint.

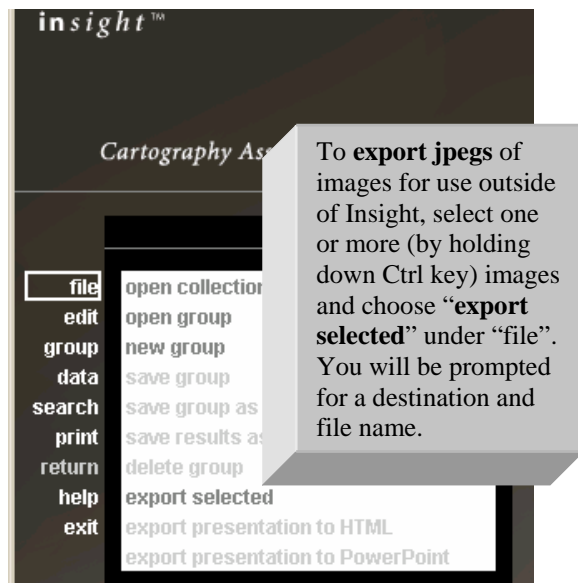

Using Images: Groups and Exporting

If you want to use the images in web pages and presentations, you must first create a group. A saved group may be viewed in Insight later by you or others and used to create an Insight presentation. Insight presentations may be exported to HTML or PowerPoint. Most users may save groups to the Student Folder.

Web Browser

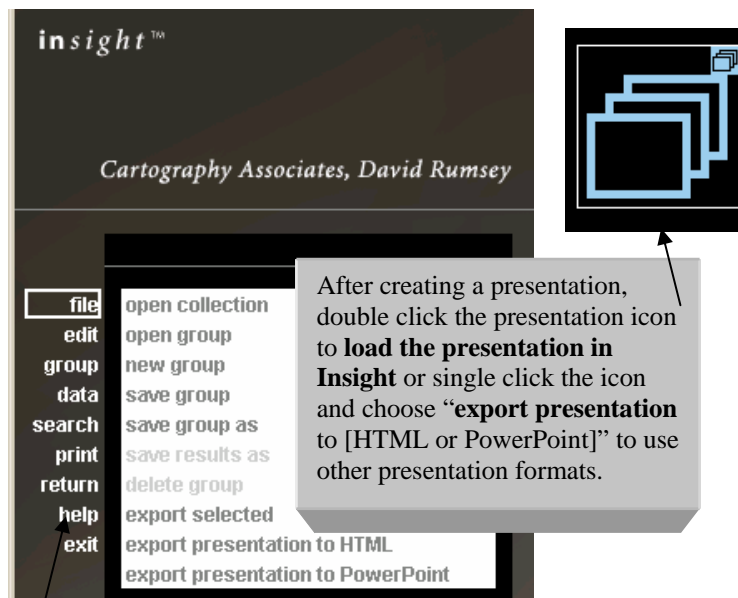

JVA Client

JVA Client

JVA Client

For more help with Luna Insight® Software, click on "help" in the main menu to open an extensive user guide.

List of Image Collections

| Available in both Web Browser and JVA Client versions: | Available in the JVA Client version only: |
|---|---|
| Art Museum Image Consortium Museums of the Online Archive of California Saskia Ltd Cultural Documentation Tebtunis Papyri Collection from UCB's Bancroft | Estate Project Virtual Collection Japanese Historical Maps from UCB's East Asian Library Library of University of California Images Museum of Modern Art New York Stanford's Hoover Institute Archives David Rumsey Map Collection |